QUESTION 1

“The more we understand, learn and know about the complexities of human behaviour, the better we are able to plan and develop strategies and processes to succeed in the new economy”

Nicholas Bahra, 2001

What do you think Bahra means by this statement? Discuss with reference to the challenges faced by managers in bringing about change for sustainability.

QUESTION 2

Organisations focus on the wrong things at the wrong time when seeking to improve performance.

Discuss this statement, using examples to support your views. How does this issue relate to organisational sustainability?

QUESTION 3

A leading Australian economist has recently argued that executive remuneration is insufficient and that chief executives need more incentives for their organisations to perform well.

Do you agree? Justify your answer using concepts from the course.