LEADING CHANGE WITH IMPACT

The ability to initiate, navigate and manage change is crucial to effective leadership.

Leading Change with Impact will explore how people and process can drive or limit change, sharpening your skills to better engage stakeholders, manage resistance, and help others accept and adopt change using sophisticated communication techniques.

Designed to take your change leadership to the next level, the program is underpinned by powerful, practical learning tools, including a leadership skill audit, a ground-breaking simulation, peer-to-peer learning opportunities and a personalised action plan.

Made for:
Individuals and small teams seeking the skills to manage change more effectively.

Themes:
— Change begins with me
— Change skills audit
— Simulation: resistance and readiness
— Communicating with impact
— Leading with power and influence
— Action planning

Sydney, UNSW CBD Campus, 2 Days

A valuable two days in which we were able to share learnings with colleagues from other industries who were facing similar dilemmas when driving change projects.

The change project simulation is an excellent tool which enabled us to get insights into the impacts of some of our decision making.

The session on presenting provided some great personal tools to use when delivering information to an audience. It really honed in on awareness of self, how we want to be perceived by our audience and being confident and in control when delivering.”
