Visa Application:

- Check if you need a visa to travel to the U.K on a short term as Australian, American citizens etc. don’t need a visa for a short term travel to the U.K. If you find out that you do need a visa, you will be applying for a student visitor visa which is fairly simple to get. This visa is only valid for six months and you are not entitled to work under this visa. If you intend to travel across Europe outside of U.K., make sure you get a Schengen Visa from your home country.

Enrolment Procedure and Recommended Subjects:

- All the courses I did I found them to be exceptionally good, and Manchester Business School has very good contacts in the technology industry and every course I did involved a real case study to be done for a real client. However, the courses you need to choose depend on your preference. I strongly suggest that you sit in the first class of all your courses of interest to understand the quality of the course content and the professors before you make a final decision.

Workload at exchange school:

- Though workload depends on the courses you choose as assessments are course specific, for most courses workload is moderate and most courses are weekend intensive courses, and you do get plenty of time to travel.

Accommodation options:

- For the accommodation, I suggest that you get in touch with the other exchange students from other schools and the MBA exchange coordinator. They all provide plenty of assistance and it should not be hard to get accommodation.

Careers Services/Alumni:

- As an exchange student, you are entitled to use all the services provided by the Career Services, attend seminars and even apply for jobs. However, the term that you go on exchange is not the last term for the Manchester Business School students and as Career Services is the most active in their last term, while I was on exchange, I did not see many Career Services events taking place.

Student life:

- Student life at Manchester is great. Manchester is highly populated by students of various kinds and all the local businesses are designed to meet student needs and offer special student discounts on everything. Student life at Manchester Business School itself is very active. So you will have plenty of opportunities to network, party, chill out, shop, and travel around with other students.
