Hot Tips

- AGSM Session 1, 2018 = UNSW Summer Semester = Teaching Period MG1
- Check the Key Dates to bookmark enrolment opening dates and times. Enrol asap to secure your place
- Note that 100% attendance is required in all intensive and residential courses. Minimum 80% attendance is required for weekly courses. Weekend workshops for weekly classes are included in attendance. If you cannot meet the attendance requirement, do not enrol in that class
- If you are trying to enrol and ‘Consent is required to enrol’ shows, this usually means that the class is either not yet open for enrolment or it may be full. Email AGSM Experience immediately to reserve a place on the waitlist for your preferred class. Being on a waitlist doesn’t guarantee a place in your preferred class, mode, time or location, so please ensure you have 2nd and 3rd preferences to enrol into
- Make sure you know what class you’re enrolling in – see the Section ID in Step 10 (page 5 of this document) and check the class schedule on the Timetables and Key Dates page

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
```

Troubleshooting

- First, check that you have selected the right ‘UNSW Semester’. This is the most common issue:

```
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>AGSM Session</th>
<th>UNSW Semester (select in myUNSW)</th>
<th>Teaching Period</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>AGSM Session 1</td>
<td>UNSW Summer Semester</td>
<td>MG1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>AGSM Session 2</td>
<td>UNSW Semester 1</td>
<td>MG2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>AGSM Session 3</td>
<td>UNSW Semester 2</td>
<td>MG3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
```

- If you can see the class but it states ‘Consent Required’ when you try to enrol, this usually means the class is full and a waitlist is in place. It might indicate there are places available however this often is incorrect due to the waitlist process.

  What to do: Email your request to go on the waitlist and include your Name, zID, the course name and class ID (i.e. the section ID, or specify all class details such as Wednesdays 6pm in CBD etc)
