The Journal of the Australasian Tax Teachers Association ('JATTA') is a double blind, peer reviewed journal. The Journal is normally published annually, subsequent to the Association’s annual conference.

The Australasian Tax Teachers Association ('ATTA') is a non-profit organisation established in 1987 with the goal of improving the standard of tax teaching in educational institutions across Australasia. Our members include tax academics, writers, and administrators from Australia and New Zealand. For more information about ATTA refer to our website (hosted by ATAX at the University of New South Wales) at http://www.asb.unsw.edu.au/schools/taxationandbusinesslaw/atta.

Please direct your enquiries regarding the Journal to the Editor-in-Chief:

Professor Dale Pinto
Professor of Taxation Law
School of Business Law and Taxation
Curtin University
GPO BOX U1987 Perth WA 6845
E: Dale.Pinto@cbs.curtin.edu.au

Editorial Board of the Journal of Australasian Tax Teachers Association:

Professor Dale Pinto, Curtin University, Perth, Australia (Editor-in-Chief)
Professor Neil Brooks, Osgoode Hall Law School, York University, Toronto, Canada
Associate Professor Paul Kenny, Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia
Professor Margaret McKerchar, UNSW, Sydney, Australia
Professor John Prebble, Victoria University of Wellington, NZ
Professor Adrian Sawyer, University of Canterbury, NZ
Professor Natalie Stoianoff, University of Technology Sydney, Australia
Professor Miranda Stewart, University of Melbourne, Australia
Professor Kerrie Sadiq, Queensland University of Technology, Australia
Associate Professor Andrew Smith, Victoria University, NZ

ISSN: 1832-911X

Volume 9 Number 1 published December 2014

Copyright © 2014 Australasian Tax Teachers Association
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Foreword ............................................................................................................................................................ ii

Tax Debt Management in New Zealand and Australia
Lisa Marriott .................................................................................................................................................. 1

Are You Still Here, Mr Haase? A Study of Australia’s Tax Rebates for Residents in Isolated Areas
Alexander Robert 'Lex' Fullarton ................................................................................................................. 24

Equity in the Amoral State: the Nexus between Charities, Gambling and the Taxation-Redistribution System
Jonathan Barrett and John Veal .................................................................................................................. 64

Balance of Power Politics and Tax Reform
Helen Hodgson ................................................................................................................................................ 79

The Meaning of 'Market Value' in Australia’s Income Tax Assessment Act 1997
Nicholas Augustinos ..................................................................................................................................... 103

The Road To Freedom? Hayek And New Zealand’s Tax Depreciation
Rob VossLamber ............................................................................................................................................. 126

Taxation and the Rational Theory of Size of Government in Multi-Electorate Political Systems: The Median of the Medians is King
Alex Robson .................................................................................................................................................. 147

Data Choice In Capital Gains Realisation Response Studies — A Review
John Minas ..................................................................................................................................................... 157

Changing use of business structures: Have university business law teachers failed to reflect this in their teaching?
Brett Freudenberg and Dale Boccabella ....................................................................................................... 180

University Teaching: A Reflection on Tax Teaching and Cultural Diversity
Diane Kraal .................................................................................................................................................... 215

Using Schemas to Demonstrate the Methodology of Solving Complex Tax Problems: A Case Study
Anna Mortimore and Jennifer Dickfos .......................................................................................................... 230

Can Teaching and Learning Taxation Be Fun While Still Maintaining Standards?
Heather Buchan and Karin Olesen ................................................................................................................ 247
FOREWORD

The papers included in this edition of the Journal of the Australasian Tax Teachers Association (JATTA) are derived principally from papers presented at the 26th Annual Conference of the Australasian Tax Teachers’ Association (ATTA) held between Monday 20 January and Wednesday 22 January 2014 at Griffith University, Brisbane, Australia.

The theme of the conference was ‘The Politics of Tax’, and the presenters were invited to submit papers that explore the way politics has influenced — and continues to influence — the tax system. While not all papers published in this edition reflect the conference theme, the published papers certainly reflect the breadth and depth of Australasian research with respect to taxation. Given the role of ATTA in supporting the work and professional development of tax teachers, it is also encouraging that a quarter of the papers explore themes that relate to the teaching and learning of tax.

I would like to thank Dale Pinto, the Editor-in-Chief, and Brett Freudenberg, the conference organiser, for all of their support and helpful advice throughout the process of publishing this journal. Thank you, too, to the authors for entrusting their papers to my hands. Commiserations to those who were not successful this time. A big vote of thanks goes to those unsung heroes of academic publishing, the anonymous peer reviewers — the wonderful people who take on the role of assessing and refining the research of their peers without any personal recognition. I am deeply indebted to you, as are the authors, for your valuable contributions. Last but certainly not least, a very big thank you goes to the wonderful Trischa Mann, whose input as a professional editor and ex-lawyer were invaluable in publishing this edition.

Lisa Samarkovski,
Lecturer, Griffith University

December 2014