Submission Terms and Conditions

Submission deadline: Friday 18 August 2017

1. Only one presentation may be made per author. Authors submitting more than one paper should ensure a co-author is available and willing to present the paper at the conference should it be accepted for presentation.
2. Submitting a paper to the AFBC indicates an acceptance of the condition that you may be required to act as the discussant of another paper. Your willingness to act as a discussant provides invaluable feedback to another author, whilst your own research will similarly benefit from the shared opinions and expertise of others.
3. Conference proceedings are published online through SSRN, and are distributed to all FEN subscribers. If you wish to be included in these proceedings, your paper must be publically available on SSRN. Only papers that are accepted and presented at the AFBC may be included in these proceedings.
4. Only papers presented at the AFBC are eligible for prizes.
