1.1 When I have a question, who should I contact?
Questions on general course related matters including assessment tasks should be asked on the Moodle MGMT1001 discussion board (http://moodle.telt.unsw.edu.au)

Questions on tutorial related matters should be directed to your tutor. From weeks 3-13 your tutor will be available for consultation. You can drop past or book to see them. The role of the consult time is to answer any questions you may have in more depth than can be addressed within the structure of the tutorial which is filled with activities. Your tutor will advise you of their consult time and their email details in the week 2 tutorial. Any emails to your tutor will be answered within 48 hours during the working week. Any emails received outside of business hours will be answered within 2 working days. Before emailing your tutor check the discussion board as your question may have already been asked there.

Questions about issues that are not appropriately directed to a tutor or the MGMT discussion board should be emailed to the Senior Tutor.

Tutorials start in Week 2 (to Week 13). A full list of tutorials, times and tutors can be found on the Course Website. Students enrol and attend just one tutorial per week. Please note tutorials are designed for you to experience and apply the concepts from the lecture. They DO NOT teach lecture content.

2.2 Units of Credit
The course is worth 6 units of credit.

2.3 Summary of Course
Managing Organisations and People is a foundational core course offered in the main bachelor degree programs. This course introduces students to the knowledge and skills required to successfully manage organisations and people in a global economy, based on contemporary research and practice. The course is designed to provide strong foundations for the development of future organisational leaders and managers who will be able to successfully respond to complex and turbulent environments, promote and sustain competitive advantage, ensure ethical and social responsibility in business practice and decision making, and manage changing social, political and technological factors both inside and outside the organisation, in an increasingly global and diverse workplace. Topics include: the role of organisations in modern societies, sustainability and corporate social responsibility, the importance of organisational leadership, decision making, networks, sources of conflict, problem solving, group motivation and behaviour, as well as professional skills.

2.4 Course Aims and Relationship to Other Courses
The aim of MGMT1001 is to provide you with an introduction to principles, practices, issues and debates that are relevant to the management of organisations. You will study concepts and theories that help explain the attitudes and behaviours of employees and managers.

As a core course in the Bachelor of Commerce degree, the activities, materials and assessments have been designed to provide students with the opportunity to develop skills relevant to their studies and employment.
2.5 Student Learning Outcomes

The Course Learning Outcomes are what you should be able to DO by the end of this course if you participate fully in learning activities and complete the assessment items.

Content outcomes:
1. explain the central role of organisations in society
2. evaluate the value and importance of the human side of organisations
3. describe the interconnections between individual(s), team(s) & organisation(s)
4. understand the language of organisations and management

Skills outcomes:
5. acquire foundational academic research skills
6. demonstrate familiarity with the process of critical analysis
7. enhance your effectiveness in working in groups and teams
8. learn independently and assume responsibility for the learning process

The Learning Outcomes in this course also help you to achieve some of the overall Program Learning Goals and Outcomes for all undergraduate students in the Business School. Program Learning Goals are what we want you to BE or HAVE by the time you complete your degree (e.g. ‘be an effective team player’). You demonstrate this by achieving specific Program Learning Outcomes: what you are able to DO by the end of your degree (e.g. ‘participate collaboratively and responsibly in teams’).

Business Undergraduate Program Learning Goals and Outcomes

1. Knowledge: Our graduates will have in-depth disciplinary knowledge applicable in local and global contexts.
   You should be able to select and apply disciplinary knowledge to business situations in a local and global environment.

2. Critical thinking and problem solving: Our graduates will be critical thinkers and effective problem solvers.
   You should be able to identify and research issues in business situations, analyse the issues, and propose appropriate and well-justified solutions.

3. Communication: Our graduates will be effective professional communicators.
   You should be able to:
   a. Prepare written documents that are clear and concise, using appropriate style and presentation for the intended audience, purpose and context, and
   b. Prepare and deliver oral presentations that are clear, focused, well-structured, and delivered in a professional manner.

4. Teamwork: Our graduates will be effective team participants.
   You should be able to participate collaboratively and responsibly in teams, and reflect on your own teamwork, and on the team’s processes and ability to achieve outcomes.

5. Ethical, social and environmental responsibility: Our graduates will have a sound awareness of the ethical, social, cultural and environmental implications of business practice.
   You should be able to:
   a. Identify and assess ethical, environmental and/or sustainability considerations in business decision-making and practice, and
   b. Identify social and cultural implications of business situations.

For more information on Program Learning Goals and Outcomes, see the School’s Course Outlines Policies webpage available at https://www.business.unsw.edu.au/degrees-courses/course-outlines/policies
The following table shows how your Course Learning Outcomes relate to the overall Program Learning Goals and Outcomes, and indicates where these are assessed (they may also be developed in tutorials and other activities):

3 LEARNING AND TEACHING ACTIVITIES

3.1 Approach to Learning and Teaching in the Course

MGMT1001 has been designed to provide you with a complete learning experience that incorporates interactive teaching and learning and provides a strong foundation for successful studies in your Bachelor’s degree. We encourage student contributions, through discussion and questioning that draw upon your reading and life experiences.

3.2 Learning Activities and Teaching Strategies

Role of Lectures

The lectures provide a forum to introduce students to the main issues, theories and conceptual frameworks for each topic. Lecture notes for each week’s topic will be available on the course website on the preceding Sunday. For example, the Week 4 lecture hand out will be available to you on the Sunday at the end of Week 3.

Role of the Tutorial

The tutorials use a variety of experiential learning activities which encourage active engagement in the tutorials. The weekly tutorials provide you with an interactive environment to enhance your formal and informal learning in the course. The more conscientiously you participate, the more you will enjoy and learn from the tutorials. The tutorials also provide you with opportunities to improve important interpersonal skills by working with other students in groups and teams, building relationships and networks, and being exposed to the opinions and values of others.

Role of the Everest Simulation

The Everest Simulation provides students with a hands-on experience of concepts taught in this course. Via the Everest Simulation, students will appreciate how individual attitudes and behaviours relate to team and group functioning – and gain a practical understanding of the influence of key topics central to effective teamwork.
4 ASSESSMENT

4.1 Formal Requirements
In order to pass this course, you must:
- achieve a composite mark of at least 50; and
- make a satisfactory attempt at all assessment tasks including both Everest climbs, and the video submission (see below).

4.2.1 Assignment 1 Requirements: Essay - 15% of final mark

Due date: By Friday 18th of August by 9.30am, submit an electronic copy via the turn-it-in link on the MGMT1001 website. A paper copy is not required.

Submission procedure: See section 4.4 “Assignment Submission Procedure” in this course outline

Weighting: 15% of your total course mark

Length: 1,000 words +/- 10%. The word count excludes the list of references.

Assignment 1: Essay Task and Question:

Having recently commenced a new management job, you have been thinking about those team members who are often quiet and have little to say in meetings. You hope to get ideas flowing in your team and want to have an engaged and innovative team. You recently spoke with a trusted advisor who suggested you watch Seth Godin’s TED talk about communicating ideas.

Having watched the talk, you are now keen to understand more about how effective communication occurs. Conduct some independent academic research and write an essay addressing the following statement:

What stops good ideas being adopted in organisations?

Reference requirements: Use up to six (6) references for this assignment.

You must find at least 4 academic journal articles in the following library databases: ProQuest Central; Business Source Premier; Web of Science that are relevant to support your analysis. Note: Articles from Harvard Business Review, websites and books are not valid sources for this assignment. Your text book is not considered an academic journal.

Marking criteria:

• development of a consistent, clear and well-supported answer to the question
• overall quality of analysis, depth of reflection/thinking in terms of the key themes and issues raised in the question
• quality of academic research (sourced from appropriate journals/databases, appropriate number of sources, relevance of sources to your argument)
• appropriate structure (logical sequence; transitions between parts; well-developed paragraphs)
• clarity of expression & grammar
• correct format of in-text citations and reference list using Harvard referencing.
• appropriate document formatting as per requirements on section 4.3 of the Course Outline and length (1,000 words +/- 10%)
4.2.2 Assignment 2 Requirements: Report - 30% of final mark

Due date: By Friday 6th October by 9.30 am, submit an electronic copy via the turn-it-in link on the MGMT1001 website. A paper copy is not required.

Submission procedure: See section 4.4 “Assignment Submission Procedure”

Weighting: 30% of your total course mark

Length: 2,500 words +/- 10%

Report Focus:
While studying MGMT 1001 you have completed two simulated climbs of Mount Everest. This has given you an experience of working in a team. You are now required to write a report. Your report must:
- Show you understand and have selected issues to analyse as a result of your Everest participation.
- Analyse these issues by using frameworks and theories from MGMT 1001 course.
- Reflect, with the use of course concepts, upon what you learnt from your experience.

The report should include the following:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

<td>Yes (approx 1200 words)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Section Three: Recommendations for the future</td>
<td>Yes (approx 600 words)</td>
</tr>
<tr>

</tbody>
</table>
- all students who were “participants” (not “observers”) in Everest must attach their individual and team goals achieved from the simulation (screen shots or typed in table format is acceptable).
- all students (participants & observers) must attach a copy of team contract.
Reference requirements: You must use a minimum of six (6) academic references to support your analysis and no more than 15 references

Marking criteria:
- overall quality of analysis, depth of reflection / thinking in terms of simulated learning experiences related to the Everest climbs.
- quality of academic research (appropriate number of academic sources, relevance of sources to your argument).
- appropriate structure (logical sequence; transitions between parts; well-developed paragraphs).
- clarity of expression & grammar.
- correct format of in-text citations and reference list using Harvard referencing.
- correct document formatting as per requirements in section 4.3 of the Course Outline, length (2,500 words +/- 10%), and inclusion of compulsory appendices.

More information about the Everest Simulation can be found on the course website. You must undertake your first climb virtually via computer mediated discussion. The second climb is to be taken with all members in the same room working on their computers.

Note that the Everest simulation is to be completed twice. The simulation will be available to students at the following times only:

 Everest simulation climb 1: Between August 28th (9am) and September 1st (5pm)
 Everest simulation climb 2: Between September 11th (9am) and September 15th (5pm)

 You must complete both Everest climbs to be eligible to pass MGMT 1001.
4.2.3 Individual Participation - 20% of final mark

Tutorial Participation: (5%)

Preparation for, and active participation in, your lectures and tutorials is a vital component of the learning in this subject and as such students who prepare and participate in the classroom will be rewarded. Participation may involve small group discussion, short informal presentations to the class, answering questions, participation in class discussion.

Participation marks are based on the degree to which students make an informed contribution to class and small group discussion. Simply attending tutorials without getting involved in class discussion is of little value to you or your classmates and will result in a minimal participation mark. To be eligible for marks students must attend a minimum of eight (8) tutorials. Students must ensure their attendance is taken. If students have a valid reason to be absent, documentary evidence (e.g. official medical certificate) must be presented to the tutor in the next tutorial. Attendance is taken at 5 minutes past the hour, partial attendance will not be counted.

Everest Video Creation: (2%) due Friday 13th October, at 12 noon

Task: Your team must create a short (2 minutes maximum) video demonstrating the learning outcomes from the two Everest climbs in relation to conflict in teams. Creativity is to be encouraged. You must demonstrate you have applied the concepts of team conflict in your video. Videos should be uploaded to Moodle on campus as you will benefit from the speed of the university internet.

Everest Video Review: (10%) due Friday 20th October, at 12 noon

Marks are awarded based upon your provision of peer review to others, and upon the evaluations of your video provided by your peers. To be eligible to gain these marks you must have completed reviewed your teammates and other tutorial videos. Failure to do so will reduce your eligibility to 80% of the allocated team mark. Videos will be assessed in terms of their overall quality in addressing key concepts, and a team’s involvement in creating the video. There are two parts to this peer review:

1. Peer review of your team. You must evaluate each of your Everest team members on their level of involvement in the creation of your team’s video.
2. Peer review of tutorial videos. You will be required to view all videos (via Moodle) for your tutorial group. You will then review each. You must provide at least one comment per video to justify the grade you give to each video.
Research Studies Participation (3%)

You are required to participate in either two management research studies (each worth 1.5% of your total mark) or one study (worth 3% of your total mark), before the end of the semester. Participating in ongoing research is a great way to learn about how UNSW researchers are advancing knowledge in Management and involves you in an important aspect of University life.

Descriptions of the research studies available for you to participate in will be posted from Week 3 onwards on the Management Research Participation System. The system closes at 5pm, Friday October 20th. The link to the Management Research Participation System will be available on the course Moodle site. You will need to:

1. register in the system with your UNSW email address,
2. browse through the list of research studies,
3. sign up for a study (note the 1 or 2 studies issue above) you find of interest, and
4. choose a time slot to participate.

The system is easy to use. There are also instructions provided on Moodle. You can contact the Research Pool Coordinator (mgmtResearchPool@unsw.edu.au) if you have any questions. This is operated externally to the course as such the team of MGMT 1001 are unable to answer any questions related to these studies, you must communicate directly with the Research Pool Coordinator or Researcher conducting the study.

Most research studies are 60 minutes in duration, including a debrief highlighting the key insights for managing organisations and people. Each study will accept only a limited number of participants, so sign up early to ensure your spot in the studies that interest you most. Some studies may be added later in the semester, so check back in the system if you are still looking for a research study.

NOTE: There is an alternative assessment. While all students are strongly encouraged to participate in two research studies. If you are unable to participate in the research studies, you may choose two alternative pieces of assessment (i.e., two online multiple choice tests) in the Management Research Participation System. Each of these tests is of 60 minutes in duration and is worth 1.5% of your total mark. A minimum mark (50%) on each test is required to receive participation marks.

There is no written feedback provided.

4.2.4 Final Examination - 35% of total mark

A final two-hour exam will be held during the University exam period at the end of the semester. All material from the course is examinable (including lecture content, tutorial experiences, and the textbook). Students are expected to sit the exam on the prescribed day and should not make plans to travel, attend work functions or make any other plans on this day.

In order to pass this course, you must:

- achieve a composite mark of at least 50; and
- make a satisfactory attempt at all assessment tasks.
4.3 Assessment Format
Your written assignments must be formatted as per the requirements below:

- use 12pt font
- 2.5 cm left margin
- 1.5 line spacing
- leave a line between each paragraph
- student zpass number on each page
- number each page
- use Harvard method for referencing - more information can be found on the UNSW business school EDU website

4.4 Assignment Submission Procedure
All assignment tasks excluding the exam are to be submitted via the Moodle platform. Assignment 1 (essay) is to be submitted in an electronic copy via the turn-it-in link on the Course website. Paper copy submission is not required. When submitting your assignment in the course website, you are required to declare your work is original, and has not been submitted previously for assessment.

Assignment 2 (report) is to be submitted in an electronic copy via the turn-it-in link on the Course website. Paper copy submission is not required. When submitting your assignment in the course website, you are required to declare your work is original, and has not been submitted previously for assessment.

The Everest climbs must be completed with your teams as outlined in weeks 5 and 8.

Everest videos are submitted via ‘the box‘ on Moodle. Peer reviews also occur via Moodle. You are advised to upload this on campus, as often home upload speeds are not sufficient for this style of video. Please allow time for this to upload as no extensions are possible. Review of Videos and teams must be completed via Moodle.

Students are reminded to keep a copy of all work submitted for assessment and to keep their returned marked assignments.

4.5 Special Consideration, Late Submission and Penalties
You must submit all assignments and attend all examinations scheduled for your course. A penalty of 10% for each day the assignment is late will be applied. A day is calculated from the due time and the weekend is considered two days. You should seek assistance early if you suffer illness or misadventure affecting your course progress. No extensions will be granted except in the case of serious illness or misadventure or bereavement which must be supported with documentary evidence.

Requests for extensions must be made via student central and the special considerations portal and be accompanied by the appropriate documentation no later than 24 hours before the due date of the assignment (the time your tutorial commences).

Only formal applications can be approved for a request for an extension. If you do make a request for an extension, you will be notified via the system with the decision. Note: A request for an extension does not guarantee that you will be granted one. No extensions are possible for the video submission or peer review.
Requests for a remark

From time to time some students will query the mark they have received on an assessment. If you have a question about the mark you received on Assignment 1 or Assignment 2, you must first make an appointment with your tutor no earlier than one week after the course assignment return date, but no later than two weeks from the return date, to discuss your concerns. The return date is usually 2 weeks after submission of the assignment. If you choose to access your assignment via the course website at a later date, keep in mind that you are still required to follow the course return date timing. If, after speaking to your tutor you remain unhappy with their explanation, you may request a review of your assignment. Keep in mind that a request for an assignment review is not automatically granted. To qualify for an assignment review you must submit, in writing, the specific reasons you believe a review is warranted. This document should also include a discussion of the tutor’s comments and how the components of your essay relate to the assignment criteria. Applications that request a re-mark on the basis of “I felt the mark was too low” will be rejected. In order to request a remark please refer to the UNSW Policy around students' request for remarking assignments: https://student.unsw.edu.au/sites/all/files/uploads/group47/forms/ReviewofResults.pdf

For information on Special Consideration please refer to the Business School's Course Outlines Policies webpage.

Quality Assurance

The Business School is actively monitoring student learning and quality of the student experience in all its programs. A random selection of completed assessment tasks may be used for quality assurance, such as to determine the extent to which program learning goals are being achieved. The information is required for accreditation purposes, and aggregated findings will be used to inform changes aimed at improving the quality of Business School programs. All material used for such processes will be treated as confidential.

5 COURSE RESOURCES

The website for this course is on Moodle at: http://moodle.telt.unsw.edu.au

6 COURSE EVALUATION AND DEVELOPMENT

Each year feedback is sought from students and other stakeholders about the courses offered in the School and continual improvements are made based on this feedback. UNSW’s myExperience survey is one of the ways in which student evaluative feedback is gathered. In this course, we will seek your feedback through informal class feedback and end of semester via myExperience responses.
