1.1 Communication with Staff

Bill Butcher’s consultation times are 4:00 – 5:30pm on Wednesdays.

Rob Nicholls’ consultations are by appointment on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

When you contact staff by email please:

- Use your university email address
- Specify the course TABL3791 as your lecturer may be teaching more than one course.
- Sign off by using your name

2.2 Units of Credit

The course is worth 6 units of credit.

2.3 Summary of Course

Law is a critical factor in commerce. In any business decision fundamental legal questions may arise about the potential liabilities of the parties, the rights that the parties have and how the business or transaction should be organised. In the context of international business, domestic law often applies but so do specifically international legal principles. This subject introduces the background to international business law, discusses the legal framework of international business regulation; and examines areas of law particularly relevant to the conduct of international business, including the law of contract, finance, competition law, alternative business structures, the protection of intellectual property, and international dispute resolution.
2.4 Course Aims
The aims of this course are to develop your understanding of the structure and key elements of the law governing international business and for you to apply this knowledge to recognising and addressing legal problems in the area. It will also give you some practical tools to prevent legal problems arising and to deal with those that do.

2.5 Student Learning Outcomes
By the end of this course, you should be able to:

1. Identify legal issues that arise in international business situations.
2. Analyse legal issues relating to international business in a logical and structured way (i.e. identify problems, research relevant sources, propose an outcome and identify possible challenges to the proposed outcome).
3. Construct written arguments relevant to legal problems that commonly arise in international business.
4. Accurately diagnose legal issues that can arise in international business and source and apply the relevant law.
5. Operate both independently and collaboratively to understand and solve legal problems in international business.

The Course Learning Outcomes are what you should be able to DO by the end of this course if you participate fully in learning activities and successfully complete the assessment items.

The Learning Outcomes in this course also help you to achieve some of the overall Program Learning Goals and Outcomes for all undergraduate students in the Business School. Program Learning Goals are what we want you to BE or HAVE by the time you successfully complete your degree (e.g. ‘be an effective team player’). You demonstrate this by achieving specific Program Learning Outcomes - what you are able to DO by the end of your degree (e.g. ‘participate collaboratively and responsibly in teams’).

For more information on the Undergraduate Program Learning Goals and Outcomes, see Part B of the course outline.
Business Undergraduate Program Learning Goals and Outcomes

1. Knowledge: Our graduates will have in-depth disciplinary knowledge applicable in local and global contexts.
   You should be able to select and apply disciplinary knowledge to business situations in a local and global environment.

2. Critical thinking and problem solving: Our graduates will be critical thinkers and effective problem solvers.
   You should be able to identify and research issues in business situations, analyse the issues, and propose appropriate and well-justified solutions.

3. Communication: Our graduates will be effective professional communicators.
   You should be able to:
   a. Prepare written documents that are clear and concise, using appropriate style and presentation for the intended audience, purpose and context, and
   b. Prepare and deliver oral presentations that are clear, focused, well-structured, and delivered in a professional manner.

4. Teamwork: Our graduates will be effective team participants.
   You should be able to participate collaboratively and responsibly in teams, and reflect on your own teamwork, and on the team’s processes and ability to achieve outcomes.

5. Ethical, social and environmental responsibility: Our graduates will have a sound awareness of the ethical, social, cultural and environmental implications of business practice.
   You should be able to:
   a. Identify and assess ethical, environmental and/or sustainability considerations in business decision-making and practice, and
   b. Identify social and cultural implications of business situations.

The following table shows how your Course Learning Outcomes relate to the overall Program Learning Goals and Outcomes, and indicates where these are assessed (they may also be developed in tutorials and other activities):

3 LEARNING AND TEACHING ACTIVITIES

3.1 Approach to Learning and Teaching in the Course

This course is conducted with the aim of promoting student-centred learning.

This aim will be achieved by requiring students to engage with the topics presented in the course through set weekly readings and, as required, independent research.

While the assessment in this course is designed to test students’ knowledge of the key principles that establish the framework of common international business transactions, an important focus of the assessment regime is to test how well students can apply legal principles and practices in a realistic commercial context.

3.2 Learning Activities and Teaching Strategies

This course involves three hours of teaching time per week.

Lectures are a critical part of your learning in this course. However, you should keep in mind that they do not substitute or summarise the prescribed readings. The readings and case studies are an essential element of the course, both in terms of preparing you for the classes and for achieving sufficient depth of knowledge. If you fail to read the material, or to complete the case studies before class, you will derive much less benefit from the classes. The classes are very carefully prepared to complement your own preparation, not to replace it. It is your responsibility to play an active part in your learning. This entails preparation before class, review of your notes after class, and asking questions on any aspect you are uncertain about.

Each class will include a tutorial component dedicated to discussion of case studies. The material to be discussed in the seminar will have been dealt with in the lecture in the previous week. This enables you to have the benefit of a lecture before approaching the case studies. All students must prepare a written answer and be ready to discuss the case studies in class.

No written suggested answers will be provided for the case studies. It is vital to your learning of the material and in developing skills in applying the law to given situations that you prepare your own answers and analyse them in the light of the class discussion. The class discussion will be sufficiently structured and methodical that you should obtain a clear understanding without the need for a potentially distracting written suggested answer. If any points remain unclear, you are of course welcome to discuss them with the lecturer.

This course assumes no existing knowledge of the topics to be covered during the session.

4 ASSESSMENT

4.1 Formal Requirements

In order to pass this course, you must:
- achieve a composite mark of at least 50; and
- make a satisfactory attempt at all assessment tasks (see below).

Total 100%

4.3 Assessment Format

Mid Session Exam – 20%
- The examination will consist of 20 short answer questions. It is a closed book exam.
- The lecture will follow the exam and will run from 12.15pm - 2.00pm.

Research Assignment – 20%

Word Limit: The word limit for the research assignment is 2,000 words. This limit will be strictly enforced. A major purpose of placing a word limit on the paper is to help you develop the skill of applying the law to a set of facts in an organised, concise and efficient manner.

- Students are solely responsible to ensure that they have attached a completed cover page. The style of cover page is attached to this Course Outline.
- Assignments will not be accepted unless you have signed the acknowledgment on the cover page.
- You must comply with the Style Guide in the Appendix below.

Final Examination – 60%

- The final exam will be three hours, plus reading time.
- The exam will cover all topics discussed in both the lectures and readings.
- The exam will be closed book.

4.4 Assignment Submission Procedure

The research assignment is due at 2.00 pm on 17 May.

A hard copy of the assignment must be handed in, and a copy posted on the Moodle site for the course. Hard copies of the assignment may be handed in at the lecture or be placed in the TABL3791 Assignment Collection Box – location to be advised in lectures.

4.5 Late Submission

The research assignment must be submitted by the stated due date.

Any assignment submitted late will not be accepted unless prior written approval has been granted by the Lecturer.

Assignments that are submitted after the due date and time without prior written approval will have 20% deducted per day late. Please note: mark deductions will be imposed immediately after the time the assignment is due. Any assignment submitted 5 or more days late will score 0.

If you foresee that you will have problems submitting the assignment on time you should contact the lecturer-in-charge immediately. Only the lecturer-in-charge can grant an extension for an assignment.

Do not wait until the due date to ask for an extension. No extensions will be granted on the due date itself.

If circumstances beyond your control mean that you cannot complete an assignment by the due date you should make an application for special consideration (see below at Part B, paragraph 4). These applications are reserved for illness or misadventure, not work commitments. Work commitments and clashes with other courses are not a valid reason for special consideration applications.

Computer or printer failure is not an acceptable special circumstance for an extension of time. Students are expected to make back-up copies of their assignments and have contingency plans for any potential printing problems.
Quality Assurance
The Business School is actively monitoring student learning and quality of the student experience in all its programs. A random selection of completed assessment tasks may be used for quality assurance, such as to determine the extent to which program learning goals are being achieved. The information is required for accreditation purposes, and aggregated findings will be used to inform changes aimed at improving the quality of Business School programs. All material used for such processes will be treated as confidential.

PART B: KEY POLICIES, STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES AND SUPPORT

8 PROGRAM LEARNING GOALS AND OUTCOMES

The Business School Program Learning Goals reflect what we want all students to BE or HAVE by the time they successfully complete their degree, regardless of their individual majors or specialisations. For example, we want all our graduates to HAVE a high level of business knowledge, and a sound awareness of ethical, social, cultural and environmental implications of business. As well, we want all our graduates to BE effective problem-solvers, communicators and team participants. These are our overall learning goals for you and are sought after by employers.

You can demonstrate your achievement of these goals by the specific outcomes you achieve by the end of your degree (e.g. be able to analyse and research business problems and propose well-justified solutions). Each course contributes to your development of two or more program learning goals/outcomes by providing opportunities for you to practise these skills and to be assessed and receive feedback.

Program Learning Goals for undergraduate and postgraduate students cover the same key areas (application of business knowledge, critical thinking, communication and teamwork, ethical, social and environmental responsibility), which are key goals for all Business students and essential for success in a globalised world. However, the specific outcomes reflect different expectations for these levels of study.

We strongly advise you to choose a range of courses which assist your development of these skills, e.g., courses assessing written and oral communication skills, and to keep a record of your achievements against the Program Learning Goals as part of your portfolio.

9 ACADEMIC HONESTY AND PLAGIARISM

The University regards plagiarism as a form of academic misconduct, and has very strict rules regarding plagiarism. For UNSW policies, penalties, and information to help you avoid plagiarism see: https://student.unsw.edu.au/plagiarism as well as the guidelines in the online ELISE tutorials for all new UNSW students: http://subjectguides.library.unsw.edu.au/elise

To see if you understand plagiarism, do this short quiz:
https://student.unsw.edu.au/plagiarism-quiz

10 STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES AND CONDUCT

Students are expected to be familiar with and adhere to university policies in relation to class attendance and general conduct and behaviour, including maintaining a safe, respectful environment; and to understand their obligations in relation to workload, assessment and keeping informed.

Information and policies on these topics can be found in UNSW Current Students ‘Managing your Program’ webpages: https://student.unsw.edu.au/program.

10.1 Workload

It is expected that you will spend at least nine to ten hours per week studying this course. This time should be made up of reading, research, working on exercises and problems, online activities and attending classes. In periods where you need to complete assignments or prepare for examinations, the workload may be greater. Over-commitment has been a cause of failure for many students. You should take the required workload into account when planning how to balance study with employment and other activities.

We strongly encourage you to connect with your Moodle course websites in the first week of semester. Local and international research indicates that students who engage early and often with their course website are more likely to pass their course.

Information on expected workload: https://student.unsw.edu.au/uoc

10.2 Attendance

Your regular and punctual attendance at lectures and seminars is expected in this course. University regulations indicate that if students attend less than 80% of scheduled classes they may be refused final assessment. For more information, see:
https://student.unsw.edu.au/attendance

10.3 General Conduct and Behaviour

You are expected to conduct yourself with consideration and respect for the needs of your fellow students and teaching staff. Conduct which unduly disrupts or interferes with a class, such as ringing or talking on mobile phones, is not acceptable and students may be asked to leave the class. More information on student conduct is available at: https://student.unsw.edu.au/conduct
10.4 Occupational Health and Safety
UNSW Policy requires each person to work safely and responsibly, in order to avoid personal injury and to protect the safety of others. For more information, see http://www.ohs.unsw.edu.au/.

10.5 Keeping Informed
You should take note of all announcements made in lectures, tutorials or on the course web site. From time to time, the University will send important announcements to your university e-mail address without providing you with a paper copy. You will be deemed to have received this information. It is also your responsibility to keep the University informed of all changes to your contact details.

11 SPECIAL CONSIDERATION
You must submit all assignments and attend all examinations scheduled for your course. You should seek assistance early if you suffer illness or misadventure which affects your course progress.

General information on special consideration for undergraduate and postgraduate courses:

1. All applications for special consideration must be lodged online through myUNSW within 3 working days of the assessment (Log into myUNSW and go to My Student Profile tab > My Student Services > Online Services > Special Consideration). You will then need to submit the originals or certified copies of your completed Professional Authority form (pdf - download here) and other supporting documentation to Student Central. For more information, please study carefully in advance the instructions and conditions at: https://student.unsw.edu.au/special-consideration
2. Please note that documentation may be checked for authenticity and the submission of false documentation will be treated as academic misconduct. The School may ask to see the original or certified copy.
3. Applications will not be accepted by teaching staff. The lecturer-in-charge will be automatically notified when you lodge an online application for special consideration.
4. Decisions and recommendations are only made by lecturers-in-charge (or by the Faculty Panel in the case of UG final exam special considerations), not by tutors.
5. Applying for special consideration does not automatically mean that you will be granted a supplementary exam or other concession.
6. Special consideration requests do not allow lecturers-in-charge to award students additional marks.

Business School policy on requests for special consideration for Final Exams in undergraduate courses:
The lecturer-in-charge will need to be satisfied on each of the following before supporting a request for special consideration:

1. Does the medical certificate contain all relevant information? For a medical certificate to be accepted, the degree of illness, and impact on the student, must be stated by the medical practitioner (severe, moderate, mild). A certificate without this will not be valid.
2. Has the student performed satisfactorily in the other assessment items? Satisfactory performance would require at least a mark of 40% in all other assessment items and meeting the obligation to have attended 80% of classes.

3. Does the student have a history of previous applications for special consideration? A history of previous applications may preclude a student from being granted special consideration.

Special consideration and the Final Exam in undergraduate courses:
Applications for special consideration in relation to the final exam are considered by a Business School Faculty panel to which lecturers-in-charge provide their recommendations for each request. If the Faculty panel grants a special consideration request, this will entitle the student to sit a supplementary examination. No other form of consideration will be granted. The following procedures will apply:

1. Supplementary exams will be scheduled centrally and will be held approximately two weeks after the formal examination period. The dates for Business School supplementary exams for Semester 1, 2016 are:
   - 12th July – exams for the School of Accounting
   - 13th July – exams for all Schools except Accounting and Economics
   - 14th July – exams for the School of Economics

   If a student lodges a special consideration for the final exam, they are stating they will be available on the above dates. Supplementary exams will not be held at any other time.

2. Where a student is granted a supplementary examination as a result of a request for special consideration, the student’s original exam (if completed) will be ignored and only the mark achieved in the supplementary examination will count towards the final grade. Failure to attend the supplementary exam will not entitle the student to have the original exam paper marked and may result in a zero mark for the final exam.

If you attend the regular final exam, you are extremely unlikely to be granted a supplementary exam. Hence if you are too ill to perform up to your normal standard in the regular final exam, you are strongly advised not to attend. However, granting of a supplementary exam in such cases is not automatic. You would still need to satisfy the criteria stated above.

Special consideration and assessments other than the Final Exam in undergraduate courses:
In respect of special consideration requests for assessments OTHER THAN THE FINAL EXAM, students should contact the Lecturer-in-Charge.
12 STUDENT RESOURCES AND SUPPORT

The University and the Business School provide a wide range of support services for students, including:

- Business School Education Development Unit (EDU)
  https://www.business.unsw.edu.au/students/resources/learning-support

APPENDIX - STYLE GUIDE AND WRITTEN SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

General
1. A written coversheet must be attached to the Research Assignment. The form of cover sheet is on the last page of this Course Outline.

2. The Research Assignment has a maximum word limit of 2000 words. A word count must be recorded on the cover sheet. Written answers must be kept to the prescribed word limit. A word limit does not include footnotes or bibliography. If material submitted exceeds the prescribed limit the marker may require you to revise and edit the work to the prescribed requirements, and/or stop marking at the word limit.

3. You MUST also keep a hard copy all of your written papers.

4. A margin of at least 2.5 cm should be left along the left hand side of each page.

5. Written answer papers must be either clearly written or typed. Typing should be double spaced, no smaller than 12 point font and on one side of the page only.

6. The preferred binding of the written answer is a single staple in the top left hand corner. No other binding is required. Written answers presented in any other form of binding may be removed from that binding to facilitate marking. In such circumstances the additional binding will not be returned to you.

7. Computer or printer failure is not an acceptable special circumstance for an extension of time. You are expected to make back-up copies of your written answer and have contingency plans for any potential printing problems.

Footnotes, Quoting and Copying
1. Footnotes allow the reader to quickly and easily find the exact place in the source material to which the footnote refers.

2. In the course of the written answer you will need to cite relevant authorities. These may be a case precedent, the views of an author, a piece of legislation or an article. The source of the proposition or idea that is used must be acknowledged. For example, you do not quote the opening page of a website if your quotation comes from another page. You must quote the exact, complete, location of the page on the web where you found the material.

3. All sources must be acknowledged by a footnote at the foot of the page where:
   a) the source is being directly quoted;
   b) an argument or proposition in that source is being paraphrased;
   c) the source is being used as authority to support a student's proposition or argument;

   Footnotes that represent digressions from the main argument should be kept to a minimum.
