In the dynamic and evolving world of contemporary business you can no longer advise clients on matters involving tax without the benefit of in depth study. You need the confidence to advise your clients on complex business decisions and transactions and to do this you need to develop and refine your understanding of the latest taxation issues and practices in Australia and across international borders.

Our tax system is constantly evolving. Cross-border transactions are common in the digital age and as these changes emerge, so do new challenges and an even greater depth of taxation complexity. Your undergraduate degree may not be sufficient to keep you skilled for these new professional demands.

At UNSW Business School we can help you develop this knowledge by offering you a Masters program to suit your career aspirations.

MASTER OF TAXATION PROGRAM

Our Master of Taxation is a high level, specialist degree providing you as a tax advisor, accountant, financial planner, lawyer, or consultant with a critical and deep understanding of the Australian taxation system. As a taxation specialist you understand the importance of maintaining and expanding your knowledge of the ever more complex taxation system in Australia.

Our Master of Taxation will give you the confidence to advise on complex business decisions and transactions. With this program you will shape your study to your professional development needs with a choice of specialisation in Applied Taxation, International Taxation, Revenue Administration or Tax and Financial Planning and Taxation. The broad selection of elective courses offers you the flexibility to sharpen your knowledge within a specialist area, or expand your knowledge across a wide range of tax, law and business areas.

Whether you are, or aim to be, a taxation specialist in the public or private sector, a manager with a tax agency, an international taxation advisor, a financial planner, or financial director, the Master of Taxation will provide you with the advanced qualification needed to provide tax advice with authority and the skills to keep your knowledge up to date.
Master of Taxation (9250)

1 year full-time/2 years part-time
8 courses/48 units of credit
Includes a capstone course: Tax Policy, Principles and Planning

Specialisations:
- Applied Taxation
- Taxation
- International Taxation
- Revenue Administration
- Tax and Financial Planning

Study options to accommodate your personal and professional lifestyle:
- online
- face-to-face weekly
- intensive mode

Suitable for a specialist practicing exclusively in tax-advising work

PROGRAM ENTRY REQUIREMENTS:
For entry you will need a bachelor degree (or equivalent qualification) in taxation, law or commerce with a credit average. If you do not have a taxation qualification, you may need to first complete a qualifying course (TABL5901 Principles of Australian Taxation Law). Based on your prior learning you may also be awarded up to 2 course credits (12 UOC).

YOUR PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT:
As a member of CPA Australia, The Institute of Chartered Accounting Australia and New Zealand (CAANZ), or if you are a qualified lawyer, your study at UNSW Business School may be recognised as part of your Continuing Professional Development (CPD), Continuing Professional Education (CPE) and Continuing Legal Education (CLE) membership requirements.

WHY CHOOSE TO STUDY AT UNSW BUSINESS SCHOOL:
Our students are ambitious, connected and bright. Our lecturers and researchers are leaders in their fields, bringing rigour and real world expertise to their work. They inspire tomorrow’s business managers, professionals, and executives to think laterally and strategically when predicting and responding to emerging business and regulatory trends.

UNSW Business School’s Taxation and Business Law unit (incorporating Atax) has an outstanding reputation in the marketplace building trust in the quality of knowledge, currency and performance for our clients and yours.

UNSW BUSINESS SCHOOL – WHERE GREAT MINDS DO BUSINESS

For more information on our Taxation programs visit:
www.business.unsw.edu.au/pg
Phone: 02 9385 3507
Email: studybusiness@unsw.edu.au