

Dr Fariborz Moshirian is a Professor of Finance and the Director of the Institute of Global Finance in the Australian School of Business at the University of New South Wales, Sydney. He was the Bertil Danielsson Professor of Finance for 2006 (the Stockholm School of Economics and Nordea Bank). Based on the top seven leading international finance journals reported in the “Most Prolific Finance Professors 1959-2008”, he is ranked amongst the top 5 Professors of Finance in the Asia Pacific region. He is a consultant to the Asian Development Bank. He served as a columnist for the CFO Magazine of the Australian Financial Review (2008-2012). He also served as the Head of School of Banking and Finance at UNSW for over four years.

He has joint work with a number of senior researchers from international institutions including the BIS, the World Bank and the IMF, the Bank of England, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, the Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) and APRA on global, regional and national issues. His joint work with the World Bank on Globalization and Financial Services in Emerging Countries was published in 2007. His work with the IMF and the World Bank on Global Financial Crisis, Risk Analysis and Risk Management was published in 2009. His joint work with the BIS, the RBA and APRA on “Systemic Risk, Basel III, Governance and Financial Stability” was published in 2012. His latest work on Systemic Risk: Liquidity, Governance and Global Financial Stability with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, the Bank of England and the RBA will be published in 2013.